WILLIAMSON (W. Va.) June 26.—

There is no longer any doubt that the list of dead, the result of the recent flood, will exceed 19. Parties reached here this evening from the upper end of the flooded district bringing the first authoritative information received from the scene of the disaster.

The section visited by the flood was after authoritative information received from the scene of the disaster.

The section visited by the flood was thickly settled, but as the population consists chiefly of miners who were at work at the time, the large majority of the dead are women and children, and thrilling stories of rescue are told. At Eckman, a mother climbed a huge pillar of a railway treatle, holding to her breast her only child. Her home was washed away, but the mother and her child were saved.

Fifteen persons are said to have been drowned at Eckman. At Keystone, probably thirty persons perished. In one instance persons fled to an island and climbed small trees, only to be swept away fifteen min-the stream, many of which never will be identified.

Seven saloons at Keystone were washed away, four lives being lost in one of them. Dr. Hatfield's home at this point was not washed away, as formerly reported, and his family is safe. At Brooks, the loss of property is also severe, but only three lives are said to have been lost there. The resion from Ennis to Davy, forty-three miles, is completely in ruins. Hundreds of mine mules can be seen in heaps intermingled with human bodies. Near Davy a horse was found lodged in a drift and a human body dangling from the saddle, the man's foot having hung in the stirrup.

A report has just reached here that fifteen bedies are lodged in a drift at Hatfield tunnel, twenty miles east of heads.

Hatfield tunnel, twenty miles east on his city. Near Burke, a man saw his orother sinking in the flood, and dunged in to rescue him. Both were drowned.

C. F. Clifford, train dispatcher for the Norfolk and Western, walked from Ennis to Davy, and now has control of the telegraph lines at the latter point. He says that on his journey he saw five dead bodies at Eckman, seven at Keystone, and the shores. He pressed on through without stopping, and those were on his direct line of travel. He says this number may be

DETAILS COMING IN. BLUEFIELDS (W. Va.) June 26,-Details of the flood's havoc continu betails of the flood's have continue to come in. At Norwood a new iron before in the Norwood a new iron bridge just completed is a total wreck. A great pile of débris noar the bridge was found, and in it a miner's cabin in which was a colored child about 2 years old. It had been imprisoned two days and was exhausted from thirst and hunger. He miraculous escape is due to the feet that this cabin was thrown on the first hat the cabin was thrown on the thready accumulated drift above the crest of the receding flood. The little one's parents have not been found.

Better conditions in the stricken district prevail tonight. The relief train, leaded with supplies and necessities, has distributed its freight along the Elkhorn Valley for twelve miles. On the North Fork branch it will be necessary to transport supplies by mule train, as wagons cannot reach that section, and provisions are alarmingly scarce.

appeared to leap nearly across the abyzs, plunged into the soft earth of abyzs, plunged into the soft earth of the opposite side, and fell back to the bottom. Engineer Butler and Fireman Adams were thrown from the cab, but not seriously hurt. The express car and the first chair car were telescoped. The emigrant car, followed by two chair cars, went down on the left side of the track, and the first sleeper pitched forward on the mass of debris. Its windows and trucks were broken, but none of the occupants were injured. The remaining cars also left their trucks, but were not badly damaged. It was in the emigrant and day coaches that cost of the deaths and injuries occurred.

Heavy foliage lined the banks on both sides of the culvert, the approach to which was over a "reverse curve." There was absolutely no means by which the engine crew could foresee the impending danger. In fact, the engine ran out upon the treatle before the structure gave way. The night was intensely dark. Trainmen caught up their lanterns and rushed to the neighboring houses for assistance. The farmers, with their wives and children, bearing torches, hastened to the scene, and all efforts were bent to giving first aid to the injured. Telephone messages were dispatched to this city, and every physician here was hurriedly taken to the scene on a special train, which carried them to the scene.

The injured were brought to the general hospital in this city, where every thing possible was done to ameliarate their condition. Many operations were necessary, the most notable of which was the one performed on Williamson, the news agent, a lad of 14 years. Both the boy's arms, both his legs and the right shoulder blade were broken. Un-der the surgeons' knife the lad bor up wonderfully, and possibly may rethe scene of the wreck, little could be done in the way of removing the dead. Hundreds of tons of twisted fron and woken timbers rested upon the car where the unfortunate emigrants were crushed. But by means of wrecking derricks the mass was gradually opened and by daylight nearly all the dead had been removed to this city. SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT. ST. It is not denied that the annuncement of Hay's purpose to remain in office is fraught with international, as well as national significance, It is interpreted as meaning that the measures of far-reaching importance which have been matured by the President and his Cabinet in the last four years will be vigorously prosecuted from now on un-til success is attained, and that there points of conflict between Great Brit-aln and the United States. Secretary Hay firmly believes he can harmonize these conflicting views, and with that object in view he has already submitted to the British Foreign Office through Ambassador Pauncefote, and with the consent of the President, the draft of a new canal treaty. In this proposed new convention the princi-ple of neutrality is firmly insisted upon and it is thought that when it is fin-ally laid before the Senate that body will view the whole question in a dif-ferent and more promising light.

Next to the Isthmian Canal question in point of significance, Hay's retention of the Secretaryship of State will have an important bearing on the subject of reciprocity. It is known that he is heartily in accord with the President on this question, and that, generally speaking, he approves every reci-procity treaty present by John A. Kasson, special representative of the State Department charged particularly with the responsibility of formulat-ing and proposing all reciprocity con-ventions. It is true that at its last ing and proposing all reciprocity conventions. It is true that at its last two sessions the Senate ignored every proposal that came from Commissioner Kasson, but persons close to the administration say that this does not necessarily indicate that at its next meeting the Senate will not be forced to face the question of extending the principle of reciprocity.

The fact that the platform adopted by the Ohlo Republican State Conven-T THE CT

by the Ohio Republican State Convenby the Ohlo Republican State Conven-tion yesterday contained a plank strongly advocating reciprocity along the lines marked out jointly by Mr. Blaine and the President in the Mc-Kiniey tariff bill, is regarded here as significant. It is believed to fore-shadow the President's firm intention reciprocity question in the broadest sense at the next session of Congress, and with Secretary ay at the head of the State Department throughout the President's second term, there can be no doubt that the strongest possible pressure will be brought to bear on the Senate in favor of the various sug-gestions made by Mr. Kasson. The name of Senator Lodge of Massa-The name of Senator Lodge of Massa-chusetts comes up frequently in the speculation now going on in Washing-ton as to the significance of the semi-official announcement that Secretary Hav will not leave the State Depart-ment, and it is inferred that Hay's re-tention of the office signifies that the place marked out for Lodge in the Senhis admirers will not be given him at the next session of Congress Minnesota as chairman of the great Foreign Relations Committee, but well-informe! persons, even including some of Senator Lodge's most ardent friends, vigilant and outspoken opposition to the principle of reciprocity. The Committee on Foreign Relations has jurisdiction of all these questions in the Senate, and it is not regarded as likely the the administration would be committed. The committee of the committ Maine, the ranking member, will be that pension agents have stirred up a lurged by the President and Secretary was communicated to the State retary Gage's treasury order relative to sugar imported from or produced in Italy, that the Teasury Department had infor..ation leading to the belief that Italian sugar received a bounty. Secretary Gage's order was dated June 17. The action of the Italian government was communicated by cable to the Italian embassy here, and was made known to the acting Secretary of State, Dr. Hill, by Mr. Carignani, the Italian Chargé d'Affaires.

Secretary Gage's circular did not state positively that Italy paid an export bounty, but said that it appeared highly probable that this was the case. The declaration now made by the Italian government does not appear to be with any view of raising a sharp issue, but rather to make known in explicit and official language that Italy does not pay this bounty on sugar.

CONSIDINE IN JAIL.

WILD TALK OF LYNCHING.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

SEATTLE (Wash.) June 26.-When seen this morning in the County Jall by the Associated Press representative, John W. Considine, who yesterday shot and killed ex-Chief of Police W. L. Meredith, would say little regarding the murder, and the causes that led to it.

was put on his guard. Thereafter the movement dwindled away and came to nothing.

Considine has engaged ex-Congressman James Hamilton Lewis to act with his attorneys. The Times today publishes the text of the lefter sent Meredith, which was the undoubted cause of Meredith attack upon Considine. The charges made by Meredith were first published in the Times upon Meredith's authority, and a demand was made by Considine and his attorneys upon the publishers of the paper for an apology and a retraction. This was four days before the murder. Col. A. J. Blethen, publisher of the Times, absolutely refused to retract.

An examination of Meredith's skull shaws that the blows delivered by Tom Considine would have produced death in a short time event for head. Tom Considine would have produced death in a short time, even if he had not been shot by John Considine. Such is the result of the post mortem examination held today.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) June 26.—One housand striking laborers had a brish becounter with the police, in which eleven policemen and twenty rioters were injured. The rioters set out, as several times before, to drive off the laborers working on street improvements. At Mill and Commercial streets they encountered fifty laborers employed by the Rochester Gas and Electric Company in digging a trench, and drove them from the trench. The workers sought refuge in the powerhouse of the company, and the police undertook to disperse the mob.

The police reserves were drawn up in

The workmen asked for an advance of 10 per cent. Under the new scale they will receive an advance of 2 per cent. Nearly 30,000 men, it is said, will be benefited. "Arizona is having the most pros-perous era in its history. We are not talking politics very much over there now, but are getting down to business. What we want first and foremost, what we want first and foremost, Statehood not excepted, is for Los Angeles and the rest of the world to bring lits idle capital to the Territory to invest in our mines. And right here allow me to remark that we have the richest mining country on earth. Sure. Why, only the hem of the garment of our mineral wealth has yet been touched."

"No, I don't consider our chances for Statehood very good so long as the Territory goes Democratic like it did last fall," said Mr. Blakely. "However, I do not know that we are much the worse off for having a Territorial instead of a State government. We have been very fortunate in having excellent men appointed for Governor, and the judicial positions, whether a Republican or a Democratic administration was in power. Pitt was acquitted by a military court composed of volunteer officers. Provost Marshal Davis considers Pitt was convicted on his own admissions, and has ordered a reconsideration of the verdict. Those sentenced were Clarke and Boldt, a Spaniard named Rive, and a Chinaman, Wung Ting. Clarke and Boldt, in addition to being fined $1000 each, were also sentenced to seven years' imprisonment, but Provost Marshal Davis commuted the sentence to imprisonment.

RECIPROCITY AND FREE TRADE ARE ONE.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COM-MITTEE'S HOT REPORT.

Free Trade League Stirs Up a Hornets' Nest-Los Angeles Not Built That Way-To Receive the Alabama Press

At a meeting of the board of direc-tors of the Chamber of Commerce, held yesterday, the Committee on Manufactures, to whom was referred a com munication from the New England Free Trade League, made a report, through its chairman, Homer Laughlin, which was adopted unanimously and with great enthusiasm. The Free Trade League asked the

The Free Trade League asked the indorsement of the Chamber of Commerce to a document advocating "unrestricted reciprocity of trade between the United States and Canada." The committee submitted the following our total foreign commerce under the Wilson law was $1,539,508,130. We then had idle men, low wages, railroad aral other construction the lowest in years, panic and ruin, poverty, distress and public soup houses for our idle people. In 1900, under the Dingley protection law, our foreign trade was $2,244,195,-543, with full employment to our people, constant increase in wages, Increased building and ship construction; immense gains in bank clearances and to deposits in savings banks, and a busy, contented and happy people. "In 1892 we had, under the McKinley law, a balance of trade in our favor of $202,675,608. The next year, in 1893, after the agitation for a lower tariff had unsettled business, we had a balance of trade against us of $18,735,728. In 1900, under the Dingley law, we had a balance of trade in our favor of $44,764,885, a part of which, under our new tariff laws, Canada contributed.

"We believe that the active, producing people of the United States want no more of this adverse experience with low tariffs, enacted either directly by Congress or indirectly by so-called reciprocity treaties. We believe it to be the act of mad men to retrace our steps and make concessions, either directly by tariff reductions or indirectly by reciprocity treaties, whereby the interests of a single industry in the United States may be put in peril; and we recommend that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce appeal to other influential commercial boddes to persistently protest against any so-called commercial ireaties with foreign countries. Attention is called to the foregoing exact figures of results, lest we forget. The great danger of the future welfare of the American people is the shortness of their memory."

OTHER MATTERS.

Directors Skinner and Bergin were appointed a committee to meet the the United States and Canada." The committee submitted the following resolution:

"Resolved, by the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles, Cals, that we are unalterably opposed to any measures advocating unrestricted reciprocity of trade between the United States and Canada, or any other foreign country." In its argument, accompanying this resolution, the committee stated that it was in favor of a fair reciprocity treaty that would injure no American interest. The president of the Free Trade League is quoted as saying that 'free trade is reciprocity,' and the committee, therefore, takes the position that reciprocity must be free trade, to which it is opposed. "The United States," says the report, "levies a tariff without discrimination. Canada, on the other hand, discriminates against the United States by placing lower duties upon all imports from Great Britain. In 1900, Canada exported to the United States $64,000,000 of which $24,000,000 was products of the Klondike. The same year the exports from the United States to Canada amounted to $116,972,000.

"The total foreign commerce of the United States in 1892 was $1,857,800,610, and the people of the United States were fully employed, when the McKinley tariff was in operation. In 1895 Directors Skinner and Bergin Directors Skinner and Bergin were appointed a committee to meet the Alabama Press Association, upon its arrival, the exact date not being yet known. The newspaper party will be taken to Santa Monica by the Santa Monica Electric Railway, and to Pasadena or through the city, as the party may elect, by the Los Angeles Railway. President Cass was authorized to indure the movement to secure night.

Prospective Upheaval in County Hospital.

The superintendent of the hospital is not charged with being willingly a particeps criminis, if a crime it was to make the county pay more for hospital

Yesterday the following

coard to ask Dr. Bryant for his resig-board to ask Dr. Bryant for his resignation, is quite pronounced.

The old drug contract was so drawn up that it gave the superintendent of the hospital the power to either cause the contractors to make or lose money. As, for instance, two-ounce vials were to be supplied at a figure so ridde-ulously low that if any considerable number had been ordered for the hospital, the contractors would have lost heavily. Three-ounce vials, on the other hand, were to be supplied at a rate many times their market value! Formerly, two-ounce vials were the size most commonly used at the hospital, but under this peculiar contract that size was tabooed and the high-priced vials substituted.

A county official is authority for the statement that "when Superintendent Bryant was questioned, officially, why three-ounce vials were substituted for the two-ounce size, he replied, because the druggist would have lost money on the latter." This frank admission, it is said, "did more than anything else to create the feeling that Dr. Bryant should be asked to resign, as his answer made it appear that he was more interested in serving J. W. Vaughn than the county which employed him at a salary of $200 a month and board and lodgings, while he was permitted to conduct a private practice of medicine, worth perhaps serving businesses.

and board and lodgings, while he was permitted to conduct a private practice of medicine, worth perhaps several thousands a year, on the side."

In the event that the board decides to appoint a new superintendent, there will be no lack of applicants for the job. As yet no one seems to be slated for the place.

The Supervisors have, within the last week, however, so modified the system of contracting for druggists' supplies that it will in the future be practically impossible for such mismanagement as has occurred in the past to be repeated. It is felt that Superintendent Bryant would not be likely to let anything of the kind occur again in any event, and it is possible, therefore, in view of his otherwise efficient administration and the pressure that will be brought to bear in his behalf, that he will be allowed to retain his place after all.

BALL GAME TODAY.

The Cripples come to us today for another drubbing, it is hoped, but whether the Looloos can do it, remains to be seen. We have pulled down six games out of eight from San Francisco and the Statesmen and three from the Cripples would put us in the lead:

from the Cripples would put us in the lead:

Oscar Jones, who tast Thursday wrote a new chapter in his forthcoming book, "Base Hits That Have Met Me," will pitch for the Looloos, and has promised to be a good boy this time. If he can win the game, he will be put back on the trolley again. The Cripples have Babbitt, Hodson, Doc Moskiman and Johnson, but which one will go on the slab will not be known until today.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock, and the line-up will. be as follows:

Another charming wedding which was solemnized yesterday evening was that of Miss Estelle Pamelia Healy daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Healy, and Robert McClay Hartwell. The wedding took place at the home of the bride on Westlake avenue, and was witnessed by a select number of friends and relatives. The decorations were elaborate and beautiful. The walks of the drawing-room were almost completely covered with trailing vines, dotted here and there with white sweet peas. Bows of white satin ribbons were also used to carry out the artistic affect. The library was decorated with pink hydrangeas and ferns; the reception hall with roses, ferns and hydrangeas, and pink carnations, pink satin ribbons and ferns were used in the dining-room. A canopy was arranged over the table. The place cards were ornamented with roupids and lovers' knots. Rev. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, officiated, and the music was furnished by Arend's Orchestra. The bride wore a gown of white taffeta, with an overdress of crepe de chine, trimmed with lace. The vell was ornamented with natural orange blossoms, and a bouquet, of bride roses was carried. The bride's sister, Miss Alice Healv attended her as maid of honor. She wore a gown of white organdie over pink silk, and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. Arthur Smith attended the groom as best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Jessie Dutton and George Black, Prof. Foster, the church organist, furnished the music. Supper was served at the home of the bride's parents on Towne avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will spend a few days at Coronado before going to Albuquerque to reside.

Pioneers Dance a Golden Jubilee.

John Shaffer danced last evening with the woman that he crossed continent and sea to make his bride, just half a century ago. And they were both just as happy as on their bridal day.

The warmth of the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary must indeed, have penetrated to the cockles of the aged couple's hearts. Several hundred pioneers and friends gathered at the Shaffer residence, No. 200 Boyle avenue, to do them honor, and wish them continued health and happiness. The Pioneer Society and the Compton Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, attended in a body.

Hon. W. H. Workman, on behalf of the Pioneers, presented the counle with a beautiful silver loving cup, bearing the inscription: "Golden Wedding-John and Cornella Benrahr-June 28, I sili-1961. From the Pioneers of Los Angeles county," He said: "We, the pioneers of Los Angeles county, have come to your residence this evening to offer you our greetings and hearty congratulations upon the arrival of your 'golden wedding' day, the fliftitheth anniversary of your marriage, and to present you a testimonial of our regard and esteem.

STREET RAILROAD PROBLEMS.

There has been much talk of late Los Angeles on the subject of et-car franchises, the conditions the street-car service that is under de-bate in Los Angeles is that of transthe rates of fare, the question of transfers, and so forth. In a rapidly-growappear to have somewhat the best of chises soon become very valuable. Just now, when the city treasury of Los Angeles in a bankrupt condition, it is not surprising that some of our citizens are asking why it is that the city should not be able to secure a handsome remuneration for the privilege of using the public streets to convey passengers on rails. LOS ANGELES THEATER. So far LOS ANGELES THEATER. So far as action goes. "The Importance of Being Earhest" is one of the weakest of Wilde's plays. In the matter of witty dialogue and scintiliant repartee, it is one of his best—and this is saying a great deal, for the English stage has not many brighter plays, in this particular, than those of Oscar Wilde. In "The Importance of Reine Far-particular, than those of Oscar Wilde.

In "The Importance of Being Earnest," the action drags to the point of weariness. But this fault is redeemed at all times by the brilliant play of wit, of irony, of satire. Every line sparkles. Each act coruscates with brilliants. It is a feast of incisive wit, for those who can understand and appreciate it. The movement of the play is of minor consequence. Any other playwright who should make his characters talk so much would spell failure. In the case of a Wilde play, the talk's the thing—not the action. The one under consideration is a whole volume of sparkling aphorisms.

much would spell failure. In the case of a Wilde play, the talk's the thing—not the action. The one under consideration is a whole volume of sparkling aphorisms.

Those who went to the Los Angeles Theater last evening expecting and desiring to witness a play reeking with gore and abounding in haribreadth escapes through flood and fire, went away disappointed. The intelligent portion of the audience, who could appreciate the verbal pyrotectinies, enjoyed every moment.

The comedy is a fanciful bit of grotesquerie, without an intimation of serious purpose or a suggestion of genuine feeling. It is mere make-believe from first to last. It has the merit of striking originality—which may be said of most of Wilde's work. It will never be a very popular play, for the reason that only the minority can appreciate it.

Mr. Miller and his company present this comedy in an admirable manner; admirable, because the persons representing the several characters read their lines distinctly, and bring out most of the good points. If this were not done, the play would fall flatvery fat.

The honors are fairly carried off by the laddes of the cast. It is hard to say which is the more delightfulfennic Eustace as Lady Brecknell, Florence Rockwell as Gwendolen Fairfax, or Grace Elliston as Cecily Cardew. Each of these roles is enacted with delicious art—such art as disarms criticism and compels admiration.

Mr. Miller does ample justice to the role of John Worthing entering into its whimsical spirit without reservation. Charles Cherry is less convincing, but excellent, on the whole, as Algernon Moncrieft. Fred Thorne presents a quaint and highly amusing character interpretation in the role of Rev. Canon Chasuble. Laura Clement is also to be commended for excellent work as Miss Prism.

This evening Mr. Miller and his company will present, for the first time in this city, the romantic play, "D'Arcy of the Guards" will be given tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday matinee and night.

New Hiding Places of Poker Sharps.

Protected by Electric Alarm Buttons.

Chief Elton Carrying the War Against the Owners of Buildings.

Since the new anti-poker ordinance west into effect, the owners of the isok-potteries have taken every precastion to prevent; successful raids. Most of the places are protected with deaths doors, locked with spring locks and guarded by vigilant lookouts, who proughly give warning whenever a pace officer appears in sight. At one place on First street, well known to the police, there is an electric alarm bell in a poker room, and the man on the lookout stands behind a bar, and at the appearance of an officer he has only to press a push-button and the gime upstairs instantly stops. To secret convictions it is, of course, necessary to catch the players in the act, and as the ordinance does not give the police authority to break open doors in their efforts to reach the poker rooms, they are compelled to resort to strategy. In the raid on the Arizona Club the officers succeeded in getting three men into the games, and at a given signal from these men, the officers entered the rooms through a window. The owners of other places have learned a lesson from this, and it is now difficult for the officers to get any of their "stool pigeons" into the other joints.

Ripley, W. G. Nevin and others, many of them being officials of the Santa F6.

When Mr. Maginnis went away on this leave of absence there were many guesses that he would never return to his job in the Bradbury building. This was probably contingent on the success of the oil venture. This had great possibilities in it at the beginning, and it looks as if they were great realites now. Simultaneous with the return of the claim agent comes the announcement of his resignation.

Mr. Maginnis has been with the Santa F6 for many years and is reputed to be capable railroad man in his special the of work. His old place is an important one. Since last January, when Mr. Maginnis went to Mexico, it is duties have been performed by J. F. Burns, who is now at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. Who will succeed permanently to the place is known to no one here. The salary is said to be a very handsome one.

The home-seekers' excursors planned by the railroads have been somewhat of a failure so far. The reason for this is supposed to be the existence of rates to the Epworth League meeting, which are actually lower than these excursion rates. The special committee of the City Council, appointed to devise a method of increasing the city's revenues, so as to next year obviate the necessity of a deficiency such as will exist at of a deficiency such as will exist at the close of the present fiscal year, July I, has a hard nut to crack. Al-though its members, Messrs. Bowen, Allen and Lauder, are at work on the proposition, they have as yet outlined no plan whereby the city's revenue can be increased.

It has been suggested to the members of the committee that the liquor dealers, by an increase of license, may be made to furnish additional funds.

There are it Los Angeles about thirty wholesale liquor dealers, who, because of the fact that they nose as disposing of only their own products, are exempt from paying into the city any license fee. Some time ago the Legislative Committee of the Council considered the advisability of imposing a license on these dealers, but the representations of an attorney discouraged the move, and the matter was dropped. It is said by those who favor this means of securing revenue that these dealers can be legitimately licensed at the rate of $20 per month. This would mean an additional revenue of $7200 to the city per year.

the rate of $20 per month. This would mean an additional revenue of $7200 to the city per year.

Another means of raising additional money, which has been suggested, is the raising of the license of the retail liquor dealers to $60 per month, instead of $50, the amount now paid. This would amount to $24,000 additional yearly revenue to the city.

The deficit for the present fiscal year will amount to more than $70,000. It is argued by those who favor the additional liquor licenses that the plan mentioned will make up an amount nearly equal annually to one-half of the present deficit.

There is in contemplation, however, a different move as to retail liquor licenses, and it may eventually be agitated. It is to increase the retail liquor licenses to $100 a month and reduce the number of saloons in Los Angeles to $100 instead of $200.

FUSELEHR'S RELIEF.

Assistant Chief of the Fire Department Charles Fuselehr was yesterday allowed $150 from the relief fund to cover his June expenses. Fuselehr. allowed $150 from the relief rund to cover his June expenses. Fuselehr, who has served the department for thirteen years, has been fill for a long time, and, although now improving, will never again be able to assume his duties in the department. This announcement was made yesterday forenoon by Chief Strohm at the meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners, when the allowance was made.

A numerously-signed petition from hosemen and laddermen, asking for an increase in salary from $50 per month to $50, was referred to the City Council, with a recommendation that it be granted. A similar communication was previously referred to the Council, and is now being considered by the Finance Committee.

The Chief reported that during the week ending yesterday there have been eleven alarms of fire. Four of them entailed no losse. The aggregate loss in the other seven is $5925.

These citizens have made complaint about the matter, and today it will be brought to the attention of the Park Commissioners. attention of the Park Commissioners.

Councilman Allen will attend the session this forenoon and ask that a pumping plant be put in at the park to distribute the water. There is a good well there, and a pumping plant, sufficient for present needs, can be put in, it is thought, for little more than $1000.

and 77 years. Apparently he is hale and hearty, and bears his four-score and hearty, and bears his four-score years with little concern. He has traveled throughout the Western Hemisphere and talks entertainingly and intelligently of his adventures. His boyhood home was in New York City. He has thrice been to California, the first time being in the '30's, when he rounded the Horn in a sailing vessel. Soon afterward he was married, and then his troubles began.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION. Baker first attracted attention Los Angeles last February, when he applied to the Superior Court of this county to be restored to capacity as a competent citizen of the United States, having been adjudged insane in Boston in 1876. That was in Suffolk county, and George T. Andrews, who resides at No. 192 Sumner street, in the city of beans and big words, was appointed his guardian to care for an estate of several thousand dollars, which with the years has increased to perhaps $20,000.

But Baker says he was unlawfully incarcerated in the asylum.

In self-defense, Baker says he drew from his pocket a tiny pistol and shot the officer, before the latter could use his gun. The wound, however, was not fatal, and Baker was charged with assault to commit murder. His attorney could think of no other plea to keep his client out of State's prison, so he made him plead insanity. That is what Baker says, and so the authorities committed him to the Taunton Asylum, where he remained for thirteen years.

land. And the struggle is just commenced. Poor old Baker will probably be dead ere his fortune is recovered. No sooner was Baker declared competent to handle his own property than the lawyers began to hunt around to see what he owned. Imagine their surprise, then, to discover that the see some property (money and investments) in or near White Piains, N. Y., aggregating over $86,000. All this money is now in the custedly of one Charles Ostrander, a guardian, whom the law of New York denominates a "committee."

Then Mr. Calhain and Mr. Gould filed A petition in the Supreme Court of New York for Westchester county, asking that Ostrander be compelled to turn over the moneys in his posses-sion. Ostrander's reason for refusal was that he did not believe that Baker was even yet sane, notwithstanding get out of the asylum, but without success, until finally he was removed to the State Farm at Titticut, Mass., from which he escaped in 1892.

Since that time he has been traveling around over the country, working at his trade and accumulating a considerable fund of money. In 1896 he turned up in San Diego and purchassed property that is now worth many hundreds of dollars. It lies in the hills back of the bay, and is said to afford a commanding view of the surrounding land and sea. He also gwns property in Los Angeles.

It was with a view to exchanging some of these holdings that he asked if Judge Trask to restore him to capacity, to enable him to execute the necessary papers. An examination into his present mental condition convinced the court that he was amply competent to care for himself and manage his own business.

BAKER'S QUEER IDEAS.

Baker, in years gone by, was a Second Adventist, and somehow seemed to think that he could do no sin, 'be-lieving rabidly in his own superlative righteousness and consequent duty of resisting encroachments of his moral inferiors—all mankind," as a Boston physician expressed it in 1878. Then he believed in some sort of an exaggerated free-love, with possibly governmental assistance, which he justified incoherently with isolated Scriptural passages and confounded with queer notions of so-called laws of increase and multiplication. He also thought it was holy work to shoot Irish policemen, when obstreperous, and imagined that only good could issue from God's pistol, which he carried.

While in the asylum, he wrote down his befuddled ideas, and various letters have now risen up against him. "What about all those strange 4deas now?" was asked of Baker yesterday. "Why, sir," said he, with a good-natured smile, "all those crasy old ideas I left with the crasy people back in

HAS NO HEIRS.

Baker is now without heirs, save one prother and three sisters. He was married at the age of 22, and lived with brother and three sisters. He was married at the age of 22, and lived with his wife eleven years, when each got a divorce from the other—the ... sband in New York on the ground of marital unfaithfulness, and the wife in Chicago on the ground of desertion. The fruit of this marriage was one child, a boy, who enlisted in the Civil War as a drummer boy and was killed.

Since his escape in 1892 Baker has never received more than 3300 a year from his immense holdings in the East. Often it has been as low as $250. For almost a year after his escape hot a word was heard from him, until in 1893, when he turned up in New York. In 1895 he went to Louisville. Ky., and thence to San Diego. In 1897 he went back to New York, and in 1898 traveled to Jacksonville, Fla., returning to New York in 1899, whence he came to Los Angeles in July, 1899, remaining here ever since. One of the tough legal questions involved in the present litigation is whether he is a resident of California Massachusetts.

Of the many marvelous things

Massachusetts.

Of the many marvelous things about Baker's career, one is that he should spend so many years of his lif in an insane asylum and yet accumulate so large a fortune. It also appears that he was in the Stockton hospital or insane asylum in this State in 1859. But money will grow if given time and let alone. He claims never to have inherited a cent and to have earned the principal by the sweat of his brow.

The white fly is a pest to citrus trees in Florida and Louisiana, and the phylloxera is as great a nuisance in some of the northern counties of California. The ordinance provides for treatment and detention of all imports afflicted with these pests, and when necessary their destruction,

That is why the doctor thinks the old man keener than the average person at four-score and able to care for himself.

Nevertheless, the doctor does not think him exactly right mentally—something is unbalanced.

BROTHER ACAINET HIM.

BROTHER AGAINST HIM.

Horace Baker, a brother, who lives at No. 45 West Fifty-fifth street, New York City, is certain that Samuel is a lunatic. Both he and Ostrander, in affidavits used in yesterday's proceedings, relate how Buker came to be sent to an asylum in 1876. They say that his shooting the police officer was entirely-unprovoked, and was a culmination of his crazy ideas about his personal rights.

These affidavits say that Baker was standing on the corner of Washington street and some side-street in Boston, one day, when he was directed by Policeman McGaregill to move on. The officer then proceeded down the street. Baker did not budge, and after a moment's consideration followed him and demanded by what right he had ordered him to shut up or he would arrest him, whereupon Buker told the officer to shut up. The officer then made for him and Baker fired his pistol into the Irishman's stomach.

Baker mow swears that the policeman interfered with him first, while he was quietly talking to a friend on the street, and that he only drew his own gun in self-defense, when McGaregill started to pull his revolver. He says that the gun he carried was a little derringer about four inches long, which he concealed in a vest pocket.

Sins of Another

Blood Poison is an universal disease. The enlightened nations of the world, as well as the savage, have been contending with this monster scourge for centuries past. Civilization has not checked its progress. Scientists have discovered little concerning the character of this peculiar poison; they admit it to be a blood disease, for which they know no antidote or cure. Their Mercury and Potash preparations hide the symptoms, but cannot destroy the virus. This disease is so highly contagious that persons handling the clothing, using the same brush or towel, drinking from the same vessel, are inoculated. The deepest misery and humiliation have followed the kiss of affection. Though guilty of no wrong, the person who contracts the disease in this way endures the same physical suffering that the guilty one does. How often is the proud parent horrified when he finds the disease he so confidently believed had been forever driven from his own blood has been transmitted to his innocent child; its little body to:tured with sores, the glands of AN INNOCENT VICTIM.

the neck swollen and knotted and the skin Some eight years age I was ineculated with pelson by a nurse who infletted my babe with blood taint. The little child lingered along until it was about two years old, when its little life was yielded up to the fearful poison. For a-fire with some burning, itching eruption. The symptoms of this hideous disease cannot be mistaken; eruptions upon the skin, sores or ulcers in the mouth and throat, copper-colored splotches on different parts of the body and the loss of hair and eyebrows, are infallible signs of Contagious Blood Poison. Other and more destructive symptoms follow, of course, as the disease progresses; the whole skin surface is often covered with a mass of sores, and even bone and tissue are destroyed. This is not a simple disease; do not trifle with it; terrible

as are the immediate effects, it is horrible to think that through your carelessness or neglect others may have to suffer for your sin. You may have taken the usual remedies, but the aching bones and slight rheumatic pains, the annoying little ulcers and pimples that periodically break out, remind you that you are not cured; that the poison is still in your system.

S. S. S. is a specific for this disease. That it does antidote this peculiar virus, an experience of many years has proven beyond doubt. It is no experiment to take S. S. S. It has demonstrated in thousands of cases its curative powers. Being strictly a vegetable remedy makes it safe; there can be no bad after effect, as is the case where Mercury and Potash treatment has been taken. It eradicates Contagious Blood Poison completely and permanently from the system and removes all possible danger of contaminating others or transmitting it to posterity. It not only destroys the disease in the early stages, but even the worst cases give way when the system comes under the influence of S. S. Get this poison out of your blood; it is a barrier to domestic happiness; it werecks both body and mind, Many a bright intellect has been clouded and happy life blighted by this terrible plague.

If, unfortunately, you have contracted Contagious Blood Poison, send for our book and learn all about this disease. Every symptom and stage is described so clearly and minutely that after reading it you can treat your own case successfully. Should you at any time need any special advice, you have only to write our physicians; we make no charge for this.

MESSAGE

This is a message to men. It is to men who want to feel like men, to look like men and act like men. This is to men who lack courage, whose nerves are shaky, whose eyes have lost the sparkle, whose brains are muddled, ideas confused, sleep restless, confidence gone, spirits low and easily depressed, who are backward, hesitating, unable to venture because they are afraid of failure, who want somebody to decide for them, who are weak, puny, restless. It is to men who have part or all of these symptoms and want new life, new force, new vigor. I offer it to you in my wonderful Annual Commencement of Yesterday.

Yell Greets Winners of the Prizes.

Occidental College was the Mecca of Presbyterians yesterday. The annual commencement exercises were held at 19:39 o'clock in the forenoon, and the act that there were but three gradates in a special course detracted ceither from the attendance nor the inhusiasm. The college chapel was acked with people who came in the ars or drove in carriages, and stayed .11 day.

"The Problem of the South" was the subject of Edward Frost McFarland.

"Great nations," said the speaker, must have great problems—problems that may 'involve the nation's life or 'eath. 'You have freed the slaves, now take care of them, was said to the North. It has also been said that 'a little learning is a dangerous thing.' Che negro is a human being; he has a soul; is he not entitled to the higher education?"

The speaker's argument indorsed the ducational qualification at the ballot box, and he made an earnest plea that means be provided for the education of the negroes of the South.

Anderson Crain opened his topic,
"Back to the Fount," by telling the story of the Chinese at Shanghal, who rejected the offer of the American residents to put in a water system and present it to the city, because "the water offered by the foreigners has neither taste nor smell,"
"It is somewhat the same with our educational methods," said Mr. Crain.
He then went into an elaborate statistical argument, the object of which was to show that the young men and young women of the day were not well equipped with biblical data. He ethought the tendency was toward too much classics and not sufficient from the Bible.

Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Waiker, president of the board of trustees of Occidental College, in presenting certificates to the graduates, said:

"In most colleges these students would have received the degree of bachelor of arts, but the trustees of this college have unalterably declared that the degree can only be conferred upon those who complete the full course, but we have sent, out no better-rounded men than the three who receive their certificates today, and who go to other institutions to pursue their theological studies."

SENATOR BARD MAKES IT TEN. Dr. Walker announced that Senator Bard, within the past twenty-four hours, had announced that he would raise his $5000 pledge to the college to $10,000, and there was great applause. Dr. Walker also raid that $40,000 was pledged on the $100,000 endowment, and that the trustees meant to push the matter to success.

AFTERNOON TOASTS.

Following an elaborate luncheon, which was served to the entire assembly, the following programme was carried out, under Rev. Joseph Newton Boyd, as toastmaster: Rev. Aquila. TREE PLANTING. TREE PLANTING.

Tuesday night the tree-planting ceremony took place on the campus by electric light. A Norfolk pine was planted and fertilized with dust swept from the college floor, and watered from a huge bottle, supposed to contain the tears of the class which had not pursued the regular course. The oration was by Anderson Crain. Following these ceremonles, a lecture was delivered in the chapel by Rev. Dr. Brown, on "Relationship."

In the promotion of this advertising device, only the following preliminary steps had been taken: I, voluntarily laid the matter before the secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association in order to secure his indorsement before collecting the signing of any contracts. Also, in order to test the accuracy of my own judgment as to the merit of the plan. I submitted it for criticism to some seven mercantile firms, with which I have been in the habit of trading. The secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association set an hour when I could meet their Executive Committee. Without waiting to give the matter a hearing, however, it was at once opposed, clearly on the ground that it would not however, it was at once opposed, clearly on the ground that it would not be for the general good, since the benefits would be enjoyed by but one firm in each line of trade. This, I understand, was the sole reason for the attack.

Great Water Gusher Near Victor Sends Out Fine Flow.

SAN, BERNARDINO, June 26 .- (From The Times' Correspondent.] Word has reached here that an artesian gusher, with a flow of nearly 200 inches of water, has been struck on the Cole & Harris ranch, on the desert, near Victor. This great flow of water was struck at a depth of less than 200 feet, while sinking a drill for oil. The discovery of water on the desert at such a 1 depth has created considerable excitement, and it is probable that other artesian wells will soon be sunk.

The theory is already advanced that there is a big underground flow of water across the desert and at no great depth, similar to that of the Perris valley, where I water has been struck in almost every spot where wells have been sunk.

pany has faith in the possible productiveness of that section, which lies to the north of Occidental College. He has begun drilling a well on property wred by him, and has already found very favorable indications. At a depth of sixty-soven feet water was found which carried traces of oil. At the present time the well is on the pump, but every few seconds. A stream of oil will gush from the pipe and spurt clear across the large tank.

The North Whittier Oil Company is making slow progress on well No. 2. Before the hole was started preparations were made for the conglomerate formation which caused so much trouble on No. 1, but now at a depth of nearly 500 feet the drilling is still soft and no conglomerate in sight.

The Central Oil Company is at work deepening No. 12, and is also drilling on Nos. 24, 29 and 32. The company intends to contract for a number of deep wells with specifications and figures up to 2000 feet of hole.

C. J. Harvey is authority for the statement that the Stockton-Sunset, operating on section 15, 11, 24, has gone into the first sand at a depth of 750 feet. Mr. Harvey is very enthusiastic over the strike, as it proves up a large stretch of territory that had up to this time been considered of no great value. The Red Bank has just completed laying its pipe line to the railroad tracks from its tanks and now has a gang of men erecting loading-racks at the railroad for the accommodation of fifteen cars. The company's well No. 8 was completed today at a depth of 750 feet, and it is said will be equal to the best well on the section.

Rey Del Rey No. 1, which has been a source of considerable annoyance to the company owing to heaving sand, was put on the beam today. This trouble, however, has been overcome and the casing has been plugged.

REEN MOTORMAN CAUSED THE FATALITY.

CORONER HOLLAND HAS DISTIN-GUISHED HIMSELF AGAIN.

Squelched the Lawyer of Mrs. Burkhardt's Estate For His Temerity in Wanting to Ask a Question in the Interest of His Case.

Coroner Holland has distinguished

Coroner Holland has distinguished himself again.

It happened yesterday at an inquest held over the body of Mrs. Lizzle Burkhardt, killed Tuesday night by failing off a street car on the curve at Tenth and Main streets.

The Coroner renewed his remarkable doctrine that attorneys are present at official inquisitions only by "courtesy of the Coroner."

The inquest was held yesterday afternoon at the undertaking pariors of Booth & Boyleson, Mr. Kellogg, the Public Administrator, had been appointed special administrator of the estate of Mrs. Burkhardt, and Leon Moss, Esq., his attorney, was at the inquest to represent him, as well as the friends of the dead woman.

Egril Busse, the motorman who was sent film, is well as the dead woman.

Earl Busse, the motorman who was in, charge of the car, testified that the car was moving very slowly at the time of the tecident and that he stopped it within eighteen feet. He tions in penalt of the resented.

The Coroner granted permission and the question was put.

Later when the conductor was on the stand. Dr. Mors asked a question or two and the facts brought out auggested something else that he wished to ask the motorman. He asked to have the motorman put back on the stand.

to ask the motorman. He asked to have the motorman put back on the stand.

The Coroner was furious and said:
"No. The jury and I will run this case from now on. You can keep still."
As there seemed to be no need of his staying after this, Mr. Moss retired from the scene of action, leaving the Coroner at the bat.

Conductor Leatherbury stated that he was not at the switch when the car started to round the curve; he had not had time to get off the car at all when the accident happened.

F. A. Melrose, who was sitting next Mrs. Burkhardt on the car, gave some of the most important testimony at the inquest. He is an old railroad man having been both a conductor and motorman. He said that the car was going so fast when it hit the curve that he did not believe the conductor could have gotten off had he wished to. He said that the car was going to leave the track. He thought the car must have been going twelve or fourteen miles an hour, and was sure it went 100 feet round the curve.

Dr. Montgomery, who treated the unfortunate woman a few moments after she was thrown into the street, described the manner and cause of death.

The jury brought in a verdict to the effect that the accident was caused by inexperience of the motorman.

Her people are, in the general, quiet, patient, laborious. Her religions are mild, and based on moral observances rather than revealed creeds. Her philosophers teach men to be good rather than to be pious. This world counts for them more than the next. Her government is paternal. She dislikes foreigners. She would surrender today all her foreign trade if only the foreigners would quit her shores. She opposes the introduction of foreign inventions. Time counts for nothing with her people. The slow eart or the more elegant chair suffices for locomotion. For centuries she excluded the foreigners. They came at last with armed ships and fierce soldiers. They forced opium on her. They selxed her territory.

Recently she has gone through a terrible ordeal. The ignorance and fanaticism of centuries threw the gauntlet down against modern civilization and lost in the struggle.

At 5 o'clock on the porch of the lit-tle house in the suburbs stood a young-housewife in a fresh lawn gown with fresh flowers scattered through it, and pink ribbons twisted about it, where they ought to be—at least so John thought, for it was his favorite gown. She wore a bunch of violets at her belt, and—well, they got inside the lit-tle hall with all the haste that was meet and seemly. With the advent of peace, trade will resume its sway. It will never reach the millions which some writers pro-phess, but it will furnish a substantial phesy, but it will furnish a substantial increase to our cotton, petroleum lumber, iron, flour and many other things. With peace will come a reform government which will create satisfactory relations with the foreign powers. It is to be hoped, also, that the Europeans will turn over a new leaf in the treatment of China and that it will cease to be honorable to bully and hector a defenseless people.

THE TIMES' DAILY STORY

AN AVERTED TRAGEDY.

So, though this first manifestation of cheek, told him she would try to figure more closely.

But this morning they had eaten in silence. She could not speak, for she was on the verge of tears. Neither did he speak, except to say that she did not understand, but would, when she had thought it over.

Now she had thought it over, and almost decided that she had never, in the two years of their acquaintance, known the real John. She almost reached the conclusion that he had deceived her; that he was not the sunny. open-faced boy he seemed, but a brute until very recent years, has ever known the facts connected with the circumstance. Mr. Hayes at the time was living at No. 58-60 East Broad street, in this city, an old-fashioned house, commodious, but not at all in the modern style. At that time, however, it was considered one of the best houses in the city, though it was overshone in clegance by several others further east on Broad street, then the preferred residence section of the city. The house fronted directly on the street, a strip of well-kept lawn, hardly ten feet wide, interposing between the portals and the pavement. The windows were large, and when the house was lighted up it was quite easy to see any one or anything in the front rooms from the street.

ceived her; that he was not the sunce open-faced boy he seemed, but a brute who could not control his own temper and who took pleasure in coldly and crueily showing it to her.

So she cried, in the cozy little front room of the little house in the suburbs, and the torn collar on the dresser in their room was, to her, mute evidence of his true self.

The truth of the tragedy was this. The collar he had tried to put on that morning was frayed and saw-toothed, old and useless. He had scratched his neck, and he had said, not altogether pleasantly, that it should never have gone to the laundry; and then, vindictively, she thought, he had deliberately torn it in two.

All it meant to her was the loss of her ideal, and that was everything. And then he had not seemed to see how she felt. The words in her pind were: "Now we know that he fiever could know, and never could understand."

It looked that way, and helplessly he also realized it, though, perhaps, it should have been, "did not understand." He half quoted the lines himself as he left her, but he quoted them verbatim with the proper pronouns, and then was sorry they had come to his mind.

All the way to the city it worried him. Why had she not answered him when he had spoken to her immediately after the collar episode? It had always brought an answer—that hearty, kindly, "What's the trouble, brought an answer—thakindly, "What's the trouble always brought an answer—that hearty, kindly, "What's the trouble, Mrs. John?" his pet name these two months. Then he said: "If she's going to get huffy and quiet about nothing, all right." But, as he thought it over, perhaps he had not been exactly affable at the table. He had kissed her goodby, however, and her response was of the passive, dutiful variety. It made him blue to think of it.

really wasn't very angry when I tore up the collar; that is, not any angrier than any man ever is when he puts on one of those saw-toothed things. And if you'd had the experience with starched linen I have, you'd appreciate this, but, thank goodness, you're not mannish enough to have run to them. (You'll have to read this twice to catch my meaning.)

(You'll have to read this twice to catch my meaning.)

Helena aroused the old timers to stories of animals, tame and wild. One of them related the following story, according to the Independent:

SHOT AT GEN. HAYES.

Mysterious Would-be Assassin of Whose Attempt Upon the Life of the Chief Executive Few Knew.

[Columbus (O.) Dispatch Cincinnati Enquirer:] Not half a dozen people know that ex-President Hayes was once the target for an assassin's bullet. In fact, until recently the knowledge of the fact has been locked up in the breast of W. G. Deshler, the prominent banker of this city, who, if not an eyewitness to the occurrence, bore such intimate relations to Mr. Hayes that he was in full possession of all the facts. It was on Mr. Deshler's advice that the matter was suppressed, and never reached the ears of the public. Even now Mr. Deshler is averse to talking on the subject, though all occasion for secrecy has long since ceased.

At the close of Mr. Hayes's last term as Governor, and during the interin clapsing between that time and his accession to the Presidenty, he was a popular idol. It is to be doubted if any other President within recent years has had the hold upon the affections of the American people that he had. It is to be doubted if any other President within recent years has had the hold upon the affections of the American people that he had. Born of a family which, if not precisely poverty-stricken, at least had but little of this world's wealth, he worked his way by sheer force of character and brilliance of intellect to the highest position within the gift of the American people. His rise in life was an exemplification of the possibilities within the reach of every American boy, and his many admirable characteristics added affection to the reverence in which he was held. Had the fact been known at the time that an attempt was made upon his life, a wave of rage would have swept the country.

Had the fact been known at the time that an attempt was made upon his life, a wave of rage would have swept the country.

WAS HUSHED UP.

The would-be assassin was never discovered, nor the cause which led him to attempt Mr. Hayes's life. It was considered the deed of a crank, and rather than stir up other cranks in the country to a possibly successful attempt of the same kind, the matter was hushed up, and with the exception of Mr. Hayes and Mr. Deshler no one, until very recent years, has ever known the facts connected with the circumture of Mr. Hayes at the time was lively and the dog not the was out of sight. around, but he made a bee line, and almost before I was aware of it he was out of sight. After waiting a few minutes I went in the house. I delayed retiring, but the dog not scratching on the door, as was his custom when he wanted to get in, I finally went to bed. My wife said, she was sure "Tip," that was the old dog's name, had gone after the sheep. I did not think so, having an idea that he had just gone after a coyote or something that had attracted his attention, and then had gone into one of the sheds.

"Toward morning I was awakened by a furious barking. I got up, and opening the door in bounced Tip. The wind was blowing a gale, and the snow was whirling in every direction. I lit a lamp, stirred up the fire and all of this time Tip was acting like a crazy dog, emitting short, sharp barks and running continually to the door. I looked at the clock and it was a little after 2. I knew from the way Tip acted there was something the matter, and after some thought I determined to see what it was, While I was getting ready to start my wife got some food for Tip, but he would not touch it. While I was dressing he laid by the stove watching me closely. Finally, when I put on my big coat he bounded up. I was undetermined about going out in the storm, and I finally made up my mind I would not go far from the ranch, because the snow was so deep and the wind was blowing a gale. Put I followed the dog probably a quarter of a mile, when he gave a short bark. When I reached the spot the dog that was with the snow was so deep and the wind was blowing a gale. Put I followed the dog probably a quarter of a mile, when he saw mear the ranch, but struggle as he could he herder, unconscious. I soon found the herder's mouth and poured some brandy with me and I managed to find the herder's mouth and poured some down his throat. After a while, by my assistance, he was able to reach the house.

"We soon brought him around, and he told his story. He was startled by Tip jumping upon him, and had to be amputated. When the storm cleare or anything in the front rooms from the street.

No thought of danger had ever entered Mr. Hayes's mind, and he had not taken the slightest precautions to protect himself from the anarchistic cranks which were even then infesting the country. One evening in December, shortly after his election to the Presidency, and while he still maintained his residence in this city, he was sitting at dinner in one of the front rooms of the house, which was being temporarily used as a dining-room. No member of his family was with him, and the servants were at the time out of the room. He was waiting for dessert when the report of a rifle was heard, and a bullet crashed through the glass of the window, and passed so close to his forehead that it left a small red mark, hardly noticeable unless one had been advised of the incident.

SAW HIS ASSAILANT.

The President-elect sprang to his feet and retreated to the rear of the actly affable at the table. He had kissed her goodby, however, and her response was of the passive, dutring variety. It made him blue to think of it.

At the office he found that he had to recheck all his additions, and the second bookkeeper was spared the usual "joliying." By o'clock he found that he was shading every figure he made. There was one page in last year's cash book similarly disfigured—the day after she had accepted him. So he stopped work and sharpened a lead peneth—by of it and the neat pile of red showings had grown to magnificent proportions his brow was lesses clouded, and he reached to the side of his desk and rang a messenger call.

William Marshall . Takes Morphine and the End Comes.

HIGHLAND, June 26 .-From The Times' Correspondent.] William Marshall, aged 23, who had for four years been employed in the medical superintendent's office at the Southern California Hospital for the Insane, died at 9 o'clock this morning from the effects of a dose of morphine, believed to have been taken with suicidal intent. Early this morning he was found in his apartments breathing too heavily, and Dr. Dolan used a stomach pump on the patient, but could not save his life.

It appears that Marshall got a cup of coffee from the watchman at midnight and mixed with it an ounce of morphine, purchased yesterday at a drug store here.

Marshall was evidently de spondent. A week ago he voluntarily resigned his position which is worth $40 a month, on the plea that it was too depressing. A Los Angeles man named McClelland was chosen for the vacancy by the board of managers.

J. C. Floyd, a real estate agent, was fined $5 in the Police Court yesterday for disturbing the peace. He had been negotiating a real estate deal, in which a man named M. Berry was concerned. Berry thought there was no use in paying an agent's commission, and Floyd claims that he proposed to the other parity that they manipulate the deal without Floyd. Floyd met Berry on the street afterward, and called him a few choice names. Berry says that Floyd threatened to still him. Damaged by Pire. Damaged by Fire.

The Frankiln oil refinery at Joy street and the Santa Fé railroad, almost the extreme southeastern corner of the city, narrowly escaped destruction by fire yesterday afternoon. A large tank of distillate became ignited in some unknown manner, and the fire spread to several smaller tanks containing crude oil. A telephone alarm summoned the fire department and the firemen prevented the flames from spreading. The fire burned for several shours, but the loss will not exceed $50.

The police are looking for John Richer, who is wanted for the part he took in a fight with Walter Benton at No. 724 East Fiteenth street. The men quarreled over some trivial matter, and in the fight which followed Richer is said to have seized Benton's thumb with his teeth, and to have bitten it so severely that the thumb nail had to be removed, when the injured man reached the Receiving Hospital. Benton will swear out a warrant for Richer's arrest today.

Harry Johnston Dead.

A report has reached this city that Harry Johnston, for many years a constable of the Loa Angeles City Township Court, is dead at Cape Nome. Johnston left here about a year ago, and the last heard of him he was in the employ of the Nome City Water Company. He has not written to friends in this city since last October, and a Loa Angeles man recently returned from the frozen north, reports him dead. Johnston was a gental, though somewhat eccentric, character, and had many friends throughout Southern California who will mourn his loas.

Henry Peters, who lives near Fourteenth and Alameda streets, was found by Patrolman Rico in the street shortly before daylight yesterday morning, suffering from several cuts about the head, the most serious of which had almost destroyed one of his eyes. He was armed with a large knife, and this the officer secured. Peters was sent to the Receiving Hospital for treatment, and there he told the officers that he had been mucderously attacked by two men while he was asleep. Some time ago he rented a room in his house to two men, whom he did not know. He declares that these men slipped into his room and attacked him with a club. He thinks they intended to rob him. The room in which the fight took place was covered with blood, and the pillow which Peters had been using was saturated with gore. The police discredit the robbery theory. They have been unable as yet to find the men Peters says assaulted him. Ed. Henning and C. M. Manchester were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday for robbery.
